BUSINESS EXPENSE DEDUCTION + STATE TAX CREDIT

RECENTLY RELEASED FEDERAL TAX REGULATIONS provide a potential dual benefit for individual owners of specified pass-through business entities (PTEs) who donate to scholarship-granting organizations (SGOs).

Under the Final Regulations, a payment made by C corporations and PTEs to a charitable organization may qualify as an ordinary and necessary business expense deduction. By characterizing a charitable donation to an SGO as a business expense, C corporations and PTEs reduce their taxable income at the entity level, and the individual owners of PTEs receive state and local tax (“SALT”) credits. The SALT credit generated by the business’s donation can be applied to the individual’s state tax liability, providing possible relief from the federal cap of $10,000 on the SALT deduction.

WHEN DOES A CHARITABLE DONATION QUALIFY AS A BUSINESS EXPENSE?

If the payment is a reasonable, ordinary, and necessary expenditure incurred in carrying on the trade or business and the entity “reasonably believes the program will generate a significant degree of name recognition and goodwill in the communities where it operates and thereby increase its revenue,” then the donation may qualify as a business expense.

The Regulations provide an example stating that a business may be entitled to a business expense deduction for payments made “for use in projects that improve conditions in the state.” Therefore, a donation to an SGO may be deductible as a business expense since the payment assists in providing greater educational opportunities, and greater educational opportunities improve educational outcomes. Improved educational outcomes in the state allow for fiscal and economic savings and attract business to the state.
